SECTION 01

Where the Story Begins

Early in the morning, before the traffic wakes up on the roads around Battaramulla, mist lies over the paddy fields of Thalangama and the wetland birds are already at work. A few kilometres away is the busy heart of Colombo. Here, between the city and the countryside, Bimondo Travels was born.

Bimsara Illangasinghe started Bimondo Travels in 2022 with a simple belief: Sri Lanka is not a place you visit, but a feeling you carry home. He had seen too many visitors rush through the island on fixed routes, ticking off sights from a list, and leaving without ever really feeling the country. He wanted to build a company that would do it differently.

The idea was to slow the journey down, make it personal and let each traveller discover the island in their own way. A surfer might want the waves of Weligama and Arugam Bay. A history lover might want to climb Sigiriya at dawn and walk the ancient streets of Polonnaruwa. A family might want elephants, beaches and a safe, comfortable driver. Bimondo Travels was built to plan all of these journeys with the same care.

Since its first season the company has welcomed hundreds of guests from around the world. Each journey has added a little more knowledge, a few more trusted partners and a growing list of guests who return or send their friends. Today Bimondo Travels is a growing inbound tour operator with a clear identity: private, authentic and responsible travel across Sri Lanka, planned from a home base on the green edge of Colombo.

SECTION 02

Company Identity and Overview

Bimondo Travels is a Sri Lankan inbound tour operator based in Battaramulla, serving international travellers since 2022.

The name Bimondo is short, warm and easy to remember. It carries an echo of the founder's own name, and the ending "mondo" is the Italian word for "world". Together the name reflects what the company does: bringing the world to Sri Lanka, and giving every traveller a personal welcome. It is easy to say in English, Italian, German, French or Hindi, and it stands out clearly on social media and in search results.

Base of Operations

The company operates from No. 596/1, Thalangama South, Battaramulla. This location sits just east of Colombo, close to the Parliament of Sri Lanka, the Diyawanna Lake and the government administrative centre at Sri Jayawardenepura Kotte. It gives quick access to Colombo city, to Bandaranaike International Airport through the expressway network, and to the Southern Expressway towards Galle and the south coast. From here, the company can start and finish journeys in any part of the island.

Tourism Focus

Bimondo Travels focuses on private, tailor made inbound tours. Its journeys cover adventure, culture and heritage, beach holidays, hiking and wildlife. Every itinerary is built around the guest's own interests, pace and budget, with accommodation ranging from four star hotels to five star luxury resorts.

Authenticity and Sustainability

The company describes itself as a harmony between authenticity and sustainability. In practice this means real local experiences instead of staged ones, respect for heritage sites and communities, careful wildlife practices and a strong preference for local people and suppliers. The aim is an unforgettable and personal experience for each guest that also leaves something positive behind.

The Company Today

After its first years in operation, Bimondo Travels has a working network of drivers, guides and hotels across the island, a team that is on call twenty four hours a day, and a growing presence on Facebook and Instagram. Its next steps are to reach new markets, add international conventions and events to its services, and expand its vehicle fleet for larger groups.

SECTION 03

Leadership: Bimsara Illangasinghe

I.M. Bimsara Illangasinghe is the founder of Bimondo Travels and leads its planning, guest relations and partnerships.

The Founder's Approach

Bimsara leads the company with a clear view of what modern travellers want. Today's visitors research widely, compare options on their phones and expect fast, honest replies. They want comfort, but they also want real experiences that feel personal. His approach combines these two things: the quick response and digital convenience that travellers now expect, and the warmth and local knowledge of a Sri Lankan host.

Hands On Leadership

In a growing company, the founder is close to every journey. Bimsara is involved in designing itineraries, selecting hotels, briefing drivers and guides, and keeping in touch with guests during their tours. This close involvement allows the company to keep its standards high and to learn from every guest's feedback.

Building a Team

The founder has built a team of professional staff, drivers and guides who share the company's values. Team members are available on call twenty four hours a day, so that guests are never left alone if something goes wrong. As the company grows, Bimsara's role is moving from doing everything personally towards training and leading a larger team, while keeping the personal touch that guests value.

Leadership Values

- Listen to the guest first, then plan.

- Be honest about what is possible and what is not.
- Respond quickly, at any hour.
- Choose partners who share the same standards.
- Respect Sri Lanka's people, culture and nature.

Looking Ahead

Bimsara's vision is for Bimondo Travels to become one of the most loved names in Sri Lankan tourism. His focus for the coming years is on new markets, conventions and events, and a stronger fleet, while staying true to the company's personal and authentic style.

SECTION 04

The Home Base Advantage: Battaramulla and Thalangama

Battaramulla is one of the fastest growing suburbs of Colombo, yet parts of it still keep the quiet green character of village Sri Lanka.

Between the City and the Country

Thalangama, where the company is based, is known for its paddy fields and the Thalangama wetland, a protected area that attracts many species of birds, including herons, egrets, kingfishers and the purple swamphen. Early morning walks here show visitors a peaceful side of Sri Lanka that few expect to find so close to the capital.

Close to Colombo's Highlights

From Battaramulla, guests can easily reach Colombo's main sights: the Gangaramaya temple, Independence Square, Viharamahadevi Park, the Galle Face Green, the Colombo National Museum and the colonial buildings of the Fort area. The Diyawanna Lake and the Parliament complex are right next door, and the Kotte area holds remains of the old Kotte kingdom.

A Practical Starting Point

Because it sits between Colombo, the airport routes and the expressways, Battaramulla is a practical base for both arrival and departure days. Guests can be met at the airport and brought to a hotel in Colombo or taken straight onto the road towards the Cultural Triangle, Kandy or the south coast.

Local Knowledge

Being based in the Colombo area also gives the company direct contact with hotels, restaurants, activity providers and transport partners, and makes it easy to meet suppliers, check new properties and handle any issue in person.

SECTION 05

Vision, Mission and Core Values

Vision

To be the most beloved name in the Sri Lankan tourism industry, creating authentic and unique travel experiences while uplifting our people and preserving our heritage.

Mission

To craft private, authentic journeys across the island, driven by innovation while maintaining respect for our heritage.

Core Values

1. Authenticity

Real experiences with real people, from village kitchens to temple ceremonies, rather than staged attractions.

2. Personal Service

Every journey is private and planned around the guest, never a fixed product sold to everyone.

3. Sustainability

Responsible wildlife viewing, care for the environment and a strong preference for local suppliers.

4. Innovation

Online confirmations, social media support and fast digital communication make planning easy for guests.

5. Reliability

On call support twenty four hours a day and clear written confirmation of every arrangement.

6. Respect for Heritage

Ancient sites, temples and traditions are treated with respect, and guests are helped to do the same.

SECTION 06

Target Guests and Markets

Bimondo Travels serves travellers who want quality, comfort and genuine experiences.

The United Kingdom and Europe

The company's main market is well travelled, higher spending guests from the United Kingdom and other European countries. These travellers often take holidays of ten to sixteen days, value boutique and luxury hotels, and want a balance of culture, wildlife, beaches and good food. Many travel during the European winter, when Sri Lanka's west and south coasts are at their best.

India

Indian travellers visiting in small groups of friends, couples and families form an important second market. Sri Lanka is a short flight from many Indian cities, making short holidays of four to seven days easy and popular. These guests often enjoy the hill country, beaches, Colombo shopping and well planned sightseeing.

Australia

Australian travellers are a growing market for Sri Lanka, attracted by surfing, adventure, wildlife and good value. Many combine Sri Lanka with other Asian destinations.

Tropical Adventure Seekers

Travellers of any nationality who come for surfing, diving, rafting, kite surfing and hiking. Sri Lanka's two monsoon seasons mean that some form of adventure is in season somewhere on the island every month of the year.

Families with Children

Families who need safe transport, comfortable hotels with pools and space, shorter driving days and activities that children enjoy, such as safaris, elephants, turtle hatcheries and beach time.

Spending Segment

The company concentrates on the upper mid market and luxury segments, using four star hotels, boutique properties and five star resorts.

SECTION 08

Adventure Sri Lanka

Adventure is one of the company's strongest areas. Sri Lanka packs an unusual range of activities into a small island, and the company plans them around the seasons.

Surfing at Weligama and Arugam Bay

Weligama's wide sandy bay has gentle waves that suit beginners, with surf schools along the beach, and its season runs roughly from November to April. Arugam Bay on the east coast is one of Asia's best known surf destinations, with its main season from around May to October. Between them, guests can surf in Sri Lanka almost all year.

Kitulgala: Rafting and Abseiling

Kitulgala, on the Kelani River, is the island's adventure capital. Guests can raft through rapids, try waterfall abseiling, canyoning and jungle walks, and stay in riverside lodges surrounded by rainforest.

Paramotoring at Bentota

A powered paraglider flight over the coastline and the Bentota river gives a completely different view of the west coast. Flights are arranged with qualified operators and depend on weather.

Diving and Snorkelling at Kalpitiya and Galle

Kalpitiya, on the northwest coast, gives access to the Bar Reef, one of Sri Lanka's richest marine areas. Galle and Unawatuna offer reef and wreck dives on the south coast. Conditions are best in the calmer months for each coast.

Kite Surfing at Kalpitiya

The Kalpitiya lagoon has become one of South Asia's leading kite surfing spots, with strong, steady winds during its main seasons and flat water that suits learners.

Hiking and Trekking

The Pekoe Trail, a long distance walking route through Sri Lanka's tea country, can be walked in sections with comfortable stays along the way. Other options include Little Adam's Peak and Ella Rock, Horton Plains and World's End, Pidurangala rock and guided treks in the Sinharaja rainforest.

Safety First

All adventure activities are arranged with experienced, properly equipped operators. Guests receive a briefing, safety equipment is checked, and activities are adjusted or cancelled when weather or sea conditions are unsafe.
